Inherent in the sport of sailing is the risk of permanent, catastrophic injury or death by drowning, trauma, hypothermia or other causes. The risk of permanent and serious injuries or death by drowning, trauma, hypothermia or other causes is inherent in the sport of sailing. It is therefore responsibility of competitors and their Support Persons to decide, on the basis of their abilities, the strength of the wind, the state of the sea, the weather forecast and everything else that shall be foreseen by an expert sailor, whether to participate the regattas, to continue them or to give up. The Organizers, the RC, the PC and those who collaborate in the event, decline any and all responsibility for damages that people and / or things may suffer, both on land and in water, as a consequence of their participation in the regatta referred to in this document.

Annex - 1 [DP][NP]

RULES FOR SUPPORT BOATS

FOREWORD FOR ESCORTS OF COMPETITORS

THE BASIC PRINCIPLE IS:

Sports behavior and rules

In the sport of sailing, competitors are governed by a set of rules that they are expected to observe and enforce. A fundamental principle of sportsmanship is that when a boat breaks a rule and she is not exonerated it shall promptly take an appropriate penalty or appropriate action, which can also be withdrawing.

The above principle is the first teaching to be transmitted by the yachting educators, whatever their specific task is, to their learners. Teaching it to young people is fundamental!

In this event, even before the Officers of the Regatta have intervened to sanction possible violations of the rules by the participants, they shall promptly intervene (team-leaders, coaches, instructors, etc.) inducing its participants who have committed a violation of a rule to carry out the prescribed penalty, or, depending on the case, to withdraw from the trial or event having, also and in any case, the foresight not to generalize the withdrawal to all its companions.

- A.1 The support staff to obtain permission to navigate in the Area reserved for them shall be accredited with the OA declaring which boats they are connected to and acceptance of the rules that concern them. They will receive written permission and an identification sign to be displayed on their boats. Starting from the hoisting of the warning signal of the first race and during the start procedures (ie until all the races have started), the boats shall be downwind of the starting line by at least 50 meters.
- A.2 Irregular behavior in this context may be sanctioned with a penalty.
- A.3 In addition to the above point A.1 above, the support staff to observe the boats during a race, can move from leeward to the wind through the port side, keeping well out of the racing area. Support boats shall not pass and stop near the finish line. When a member of the race committee or member of the Jury shows to a support boat to move farther from the racing area, this boat shall do so immediately. This does not apply where there is a need to provide assistance or rescue to a boat in difficulty.
- A.4 Competitors, in the interval between the arrival of one race and the departure of the next, will only be able to approach accredited boats (see the previous point A.1).
- A.5 All accredited boats shall help the organization's boats in safety operations and provide maximum assistance to all competitors.
- A.6 Coaches are requested to have a functioning VHF device and register their telephone number in the secretariat for urgent communications.
- A.7 All support persons, always when in the water, must wear the Personal Flotation Device.
